Help in the fight against child abuse.

Thankfully, Muncie is home to one of only four nationally accredited Child Advocacy Centers (CAC) in Indiana that provides a child-friendly center for investigations of child abuse.

The CAC provides support, comfort and security for children and brings together a team of experts to help stop the suffering, heal the victims, and find justice.

Since the opening of the CAC in Meridian's Suzanne Gresham Center for Child and Family Services, cases accepted for prosecution have nearly tripled in just 5 short years.

In the wake of the horrifying alleged happenings at Penn State, won't you raise your voice by helping fund the Child Advocacy Center and its incredible results?
